Sally likes to sleep
through the day,

so that at night
she can play.

One night Sally smelled an odor very strong.

She knew there must be something wrong.

She followed her nose
to the source of the scent and there she found a cord had been bent.

It crickled and crackled until a spark
had started a fire
with smoke in the dark.

Without a moment to lose

Sally thought of a way to protect her family and save the day.

She ran up the stairs
and jumped on the sister, who called the police

then woke up the mister.

Next thing you knew
the family was fine
for the firemen arrived with their engine on time.

The End
